"STORK DERBY" NOT DECIDED

TORONTO—Mrs. Martin Kenny Sunday night claimed correction of a mistake in registration would give her definite leadership in the Miller baby race with 11 babies. Previously she had been considered in a tie with five others. Mrs. Kenny said two of her children were registered under the name of "Cenny" through a mistake in spelling. She confidently expects the mistake will be corrected and she will be awarded the $500,000 fortune.

ALBERTA DEFAULTS ISSUE

EDMONTON, Nov. 4.—Faced with a money shortage the Alberta government defaulted the principal of a $1,250,000 bond issue which was due today. Premier William Aberhart announced over the week-end. Interest at 5 per cent will continue indefinitely.

Turned down by the federal government and the Bank of Canada in efforts to borrow the money, the Alberta Social Credit premier said: "I don't see anything else for us but to default. I am sorry, but it is impossible for us to do otherwise."

At the same time the premier announced the proclamation of legislation validating an order-in-council passed in June which cut interest rates on Alberta bonds from an average of 4.80 per cent to 2½ per cent. Under this legislation the interest on the present bonds was cut from 6 to 3 per cent.

The proclamation was not a "complete answer," Mr. Aberhart said, to protests of Alberta bondholders who a month ago submitted the province could pay the higher interest rates without jeopardizing its solvency.

The effect of the proclamation, he said, was to validate the order-in-council, to give a constitutional basis to the reduced interest rates. "But, of course, we could change it any time we like."

THE WORLD OF WHEAT

H.G.L. Strange

Canadian wheat is seldom used abroad as the main ingredient in making a loaf of bread.

The European loaf generally is made from native wheats. Such bread is nutritious, of good flavour, but is not very palatable; the loaf is small and heavy and is not very attractive nor appetizing.

When, however, as little as fifteen per cent of "Manitoba" is mixed with native wheats an almost magical change takes place; the loaf becomes large, attractive, rather moist, of even silky texture with a crumb that is elastic and of a very light colour; it has a nutty flavour, is palatable and also has a thin good golden-brown crust.

European people like this improved bread when they can obtain it and when they can afford it.

It is the inherent quality found in good Canadian varieties, and in a few other wheats called "strong" meaning quantity and quality of gluten that is capable of bringing about this decided improvement in the European loaf.

Canadian wheat today is the strong "strong" wheat in commerce. This is the only reason why foreign millers require it. It seems, therefore, that we must continually strive to maintain this superior "strength," or "quality" in our wheat if the world is to continue to "want" it.

Wheat prices have been recently pushed up by the following influences:—Poor conditions persist in Australia. Fear of war in Europe continues. Chinese cotton crop largest on record, giving increased purchasing power. Construction increasing in world, demanding more linseed oil no more flax, hence probable decreased wheat acreage. Many countries losing traffic, permitting additional wheat imports.

Prices have been pushed down by latest statistics world wheat shortage less than previously estimated. Crop conditions in Argentina improving. Exports of wheat declining from unexpected countries. Japanese dry bean crop shows decided increase. European hog population five per cent increase over last year. European fruit crop expected to be larger than last year.

"AFTERMATH"

"If ye break faith we shall not sleep."

Over the crimsoned field where poppies blow

A grey mist hovers like a changing wreath:

And voices bring a cry from out the mist:

"We sleep not, comrades, do ye keep the faith!"

They gave their lives to make a better world,

Safe for the old, the helpless and the young—

Safe for that wider brotherhood of man

What of that victory so dearly won?

What is this foe with whom we keep the quest?

What is this conflict that we must suppress?

What but the idol in the marketplace

The symbol of a nation's selfishness!

In this remembering, that day by day

They who were with "them" falter to our doors—

Begging their humble stint of daily bread

The heroes—nay, the victims of our wars?

That day by day they toil the weary roads,

While little children starve, and women sigh:

Our granaries overflow with golden grain!

"What say you, comrades? Is the Torch held high?"

Far on Olympus, how the Gods must laugh!

"The larks still sing; the morning comes anon!"

We heard the golden grain—and flung the chaff!

"The poppies flourish—but our 'rest' is gone!"

THIS GOES BEYOND A YOLK

Mr. Scott, of Scott's scarp book fame, should go to Drumheller and search for an anonymous hen which is rapidly heading for international notoriety.

This week a Drumheller housewife bought one dozen eggs from a local poultry farmer whose identity is yet to be discovered. The housewife received a generous baker's dozen of thirteen for her money. Such generosity in this hard-boiled age deserves news mention alone but the hen, rather than its owner, makes this a story.

Madame Housewife well pleased with her bargain, baked a cake. Three eggs used had double yolks. Ham and eggs for family dinner produced more double-yolks. The point to this story is that twelve of the thirteen eggs had double yolks. If this record doesn't chase the quintuplets from the front pages, the yolk is on us.

While readers are digesting this extraordinary egg example of extravagance, egregious eggression on the part of the egretian species, The Plaindealer plans to track down this goosey hen which lays the golden eggs, in the sacred cause of science and good business—Drumheller Plaindealer.

Bob: "What a nuisance that chap is."

Jack: "Oh, fierce! After you have touched him for money five or ten times he begins asking you to repay it."

NEW YORK—Swift and strong election tides swept President Roosevelt into leads in 45 states as partial returns after Wednesday surprising a New Deal landslide surpassing that of four years ago.

When returns were still far from being complete, Governor Landon conceded the defeat of the Republican ticket he headed.

ALMOST UNANIMOUS VOTE IN FAVOR OF LIGHT, POWER BY-LAW IN MONDAY'S VOTE

Not Much Interest Shown by the Ratepayers on Question

51 VOTES CAST

Carbon tax payers registered their approval of the Light and Power franchise on Monday in an uncertain manner when out of a vote of only 51, 46 were in favor of a continuance of the contract between the Village and Canadian Utilities Limited.

There were approximately 200 names on the voters list, and the fact that only 51 were interested enough to turn out and vote was assurance of their approval of the present rates.

As it was necessary for the by-law to pass with a two-thirds majority of registered voters, it will be seen that little opposition was encountered, only five voters dissenting.

Under the new franchise Canadian Utilities will furnish light and power to the residents of the Village of Carbon for the next twenty years, (unless there is some opposition at the end of the first ten years) at the present rates. As these rates are approved by the Board of Public Utilities, there is every assurance of their being in conformity with the other towns of a similar population to Carbon.
